

AROUND the TOWNSHIP

By Henry Alderman

Some of the folks in the Register's circulation contest are working up a lot of enthusiasm—bringing in subscriptions by the dozen. Mrs. Dick Attinger, one of the liveliest of the group, bemoans the fact that she's handicapped through lack of a car to get around the country in. She's planning to advertise for a bicycle.

Speaking of contests, we quote the writer of "Any Week" in last week's Colliers who says he once worked for a magazine that did "virtually nothing else but give away prizes. We gave away allegedly thoroughbred dogs at one stage of the furor," he recalls. "You got one if you could name three presidents of the United States. We didn't place the entire burden upon the mentalities of our readers but gave them hints: G—e—W—n, Ab—l—e—e, and Mi—F—l—e—e. The last was suppose to be the pouter. But within a month we had five or six suits for damages on our hands. Our prize dogs bit folks right and left, gnawing some of our most valuable subscribers and chewing children without restraint. Oe even bit us. We quit when they began to give away firearms."

We heard the Teeter family, down on Crane avenue, had pheasant for inner last week. On the last day of the hunting season, a pheasant rammed into one of their windows, broke the glass and landed on he floor. They had to eat the bird in self defense.

We paid a social call the other night on the Straub family. Miss Barbara offered us some fudge, which, she assured us with fine modesty, was safe to eat because she hadn't made it—her sister had. As an afterthought she added: "I'm not much good at fudge but I make pretty good pinoche". We asked her what was the difference between fudge and pinoche and she seemed at a loss to explain. Noting her difficulty, Pop Straub came out from behind his pipe and book. "It's spelled different," he said.

Come in. Get your toe on the mark and let's go. The Township Register's big circulation campaign is going to be a real race and the candidate who finishes first can jump into that brand new Chevrolet Sedan, step on the gas and keep going.

The second one under the wire can take the $200 in cash and have more fun than ever before in a lifetime as many dreams can be realized with that amount.

The winner of third prize will enjoy her cooking more than ever before. Think of that wonderful $161.50 Wedgewood Range with all the latest gadgets to make cooking a pleasure, such as a table top, natural height porcelain lined oven, automatic burners, handy utility drawers which are constructed of the finest steel.

The $75 cash and the two merchandise orders for $50 and $25 will bring the winners many enjoyable things.

Every one has an equal chance to win one of these fine prizes. It is a business proposition. The Register must have circulation in keeping with the growth of the community and this paper prefers to spend the money it costs to get circulation with the "home folks" instead of hiring outside solicitors to do the work.

There is still time to enter the campaign and win. It is possible the winner of The Chevrolet has not yet been nominated and that person's name may still come in. Then it may be won by any of the twenty-five whose names appeared last week.

There are several who were nominated before who have just started work this week and they are already well up in the list. It is easy to get votes now. And a number of new candidates.

RULES OF CAMPAIGN—

Any resident of Niles or vicinity may compete for the prizes. No one in the employ of the Township Register or any member of their family may become a candidate. Country correspondents are eligible to compete, if they desire, as they are not regular employees of The Township Register.

Voting ballots issued on subscriptions may be voted or held until the close of the campaign, but no one may vote more than 25,000 ahead of any other candidate. Any votes above that amount must be re-served.

Candidates are responsible for all money collected and must report at least once each week or more often if requested to do so.

At the close of the campaign, the unpublished votes and the subscription money collected during the last three days of the campaign, which will be placed in a locked ballot box, will be counted by a committee of disinterested citizens of the vicinity, who will award the prizes.

In case of a tie, prizes of equal value will be awarded tying candidates.

Any question that may arise will be determined by the campaign manager, whose decision shall be final.

You may nominate yourself or someone else. It costs you nothing to enter the campaign.

Votes may not be transferred to anyone already on the list of candidates.

The leader in the campaign each week will be published in The Township Register, but no other information will be given out during the campaign, regarding the candidates' standing.

The Township Register reserves the right to extend the campaign to January 20, 1937.

THE TOWNSHIP REGISTER RESERVES THE RIGHT TO GIVE VOTES ON THE SALE OF PRINTING AND ADVERTISING.

OF INTEREST TO THE HOUSEWIFE

Cane-bottomed chair seats can be tightened up by washing them in a weak solution of salt water and then drying in the open air.

Radiators and steam pipes will be less noticeable in a room if they are painted the same color of the walls or wood trim.

Potatoes used in salad should be thoroughly chilled and with sharp knife cut into half-inch dice. Add rest of ingredients and mix with fork. This will aid in preventing salad from becoming "mushy."

Parsley for potatoes and salads will keep bright and fresh in color if scalded before mincing.

Fur Borders Flourish in the Mode

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

at mere hemline borderings for not infrequently they allow applied bands or inserts of lace, ribbon or what-not to run around and around the skirt and the bodice, one row spaced above another. Indeed this use of unique and versatile border band and binding treatments is well worth watching, for fashion's spotlight is cast direct upon them.

As to the smart fur borders that are giving high distinction to autumn and winter fashions they are staging just one thrill after another.

The three modes pictured typify newest gestures in border treatments. Handsome gray wolf collars and borders the coat of black novelty-weave woolen shown to the left. This brings up the importance of gray fur trimmings on black. The hue and cry for fur furs gains momentum as the season advances.

A fashion which is taking well is the fur-bordered tunic coat. To the right in the picture you see an interesting version of the general favorite.

The coat centered in the group is new among the newest. In the first place it is all gray and throughout the world of fashion the praises of gray are being sung. In this instance the material is a stunning gray basket wool weave with a wide bordering of gray caracul up-and-down the front. This method of bordering with fur is the "last word."

BLACK WITH JEWELS

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

Black with a splash of high color is the call - supreme in fashion's realm for this fall and winter. The right kind of an all-black gown, coat ensemble or suit with the right kind of colorful costume jewelry works out the idea to a nicety as the picture herewith assures. Solid black high-lighted by bracelets and finger ring of crystal and rhinestones, creates the dramatic costumes here shown. Circular plaques of crystal studded with simulated sapphire stone set in crystal. The rhinestone links, form two of the bracelets. The third bracelet consists of two one-and-a-half-inch wide plaques each going half way round the arm, joined by crystal and rhinestone links. The cabochon back and front is set with a myriad of rhinestones. The ring is a rectangular sapphire stone set in crystal. The modish high crowned hat is of black natelasse jersey.

VIONNET CHANGES SILHOUETTE STYLES

Henna brown and burnt orange are the two new shades stressed by Vionnet in her new winter collection. These soft autumn shades are well adapted to tweed sports clothes and are shown in two and three piece tailored suits, simple woolen street dresses and even in afternoon clothes combined with brown or black.

The Vionnet silhouette has been slightly changed in that skirts are fuller and a bit longer—coming to well below the mid-calf line. Broadened and padded sleeves are used throughout to emphasize the shoulder line and many of the sleeves are fashioned loose and open at the wrist.

Street and afternoon dresses are made with severely high necks in front which are often caught down with clips of brilliants.

Combine Wool and Fur in Smartest New Costumes

Wool and fur are combined to provide some of the most striking costumes for fall days in town, on the campus and even in the country. The luxurious ones, of course, star silver fox, sable and mink are destined to be worn only by the chosen few. Equally smart but less expensive types make use of semi-precious and casual furs. These include suave woolen dresses with fur jackets or coats that are warm enough for now. The dresses can go under heavier coats when the weather gets colder and back under the little fur jackets in early spring.

Kidskin is the favorite right now

The Living Truth

WE DO not need to defend the truth. Truth is its own defense. Not many years ago merchants and bankers, when they left their places of business, turned off the lights and put up great heavy shutters. Today they pull aside the blinds and turn on a strong light. The greatest protection the truth of God can have is to expose it so that everyone may see what it does. Let us give up trying to guard our faith. It is better far to live it.

Run away from work and you will find that work can run.

COUNTRY CLUB TO REPEAT MARDI GRAS CELEBRATION

CENTERVILLE—The Country Club of Washington Township completed its program for 1936 with a Christmas play directed by Mrs. Barton L. Webb, a musical hour arranged by Mrs. Walter Robie, and a holiday tea served by the members of the Social Drama group with Mrs. R. L. Pond, Mrs. August May, Mrs. H. F. Chadbourne, and Mrs. E. B. The cast for the one-act Christmas play, "Mrs. Santa Claus", consisted of Mrs. Thomas Maloney, Mrs. Franklin A. Brown, Mrs. R. L. Pond, Miss Ethel Wauhab, Mrs. F. T. Dusterberry, and Mrs. George Coit. Miss Dorothy Ormsby accompanied by Miss Arwina Ormsby contributed the music for the play.

Minnie Ellen Hastings of the Lawrence Reeder studios, Berkeley, accompanied by Mrs. Lorelei Bonnington, gave three delightful Christmas numbers. The First Christmas, A Cradle Song, and "Cantique de Noel", answering to encores with Christmas carols. Miss Doris Kinne of the Alvarado Grammar School faculty, who has previously given generously of her talent to the Club, played three charming selections on the violin, "Romance Viennoise" by Antonio De Grassi, and other numbers. Miss Kinne was accompanied by Mrs. Dwight Thornberg.

Attractive programs in the Christmas colors, made by Mrs. Franklin Brown and Mrs. Thomas Maloney, were distributed to the members and their guests.

Laura Loma Parlor No. 132 N. D. G. W. members are making plans for the official visit of the Worthy Grand President, Florence D. Boyle Tuesday evening, December 1.

GROUP WORKS ON CARD PARTY

ALVARADO—Mr. and Mrs. Joe E. Dutra with the help of the ladies and men of the parish are working strenuously on their annual card party for the benefit of the children who attend catechism at St. Annes Catholic church in Alvarado.

The affair last year was a grand success and was very much appreciated by the good Sisters of The Holy Family who give their untiring efforts during the year without compensation. It is because of this that an attempt is being made to make the affair a greater success than last year.

It will be held at the school auditorium on Saturday evening, December 12th. The prizes, which last year were said to be the best ever awarded at a card party with such a low admission price, will be the same type this year such as a card table, table lamps, hand embroidered pillow cases, blanket, over night bag, and many other large valuable articles.

Mr. A. Harder of Weslaco, Texas was the guest of Helen Bliss Friday evening.

TARTS FINE FOR HOLIDAY SEASON

Tarts, which belong to the pie family, are any small individual pastry filled with a favorite filling. They appeal to modern housewives for any number of reasons: they make serving easy, because they are individuals; their crust stays crisp because the filling has no chance to soak through; baked tart shells will keep for some time if they are kept in a tightly closed container and may be reheated to restore crispness before using. And they look as festive as a balloon salesman!

SANTA FE TRAILWAYS

Captain George Richards and Lieutenant Ray Poletti, California aviation reserve unit, flew from Oakland on Thanksgiving Day to visit Fred Amaral.

For your tarts, you may use "lid") or pastry rounds.

Bake your shells by putting rounds of pastry over the back of muffin tins and fill after baking.

Or, line the inside of your muffin tins with pastry, put in the filling and bake together.

For rounds, cut pastry circles in desired size; cut center holes in half the circles; then fill with desired filling, press on the "lid" and bake.

FILLING FOR TARTS—especially when the shells are used—is preferably of fruit or cream. There is no finer tart than one filled with peaches, glaze and topped with whipped cream; or one made with a cream filling and adorned with toasted coconut.

For the "rounds" (you may call them turnovers or "pietlets" if you wish) you will prefer jam, jelly, preserves or cooked fruit mixture. For garnish or topping there is always whipped cream; or use meringue, a glaze, cherries or nuts.

Pastry for tarts should be crisp, flaky, tender and yet quick to make. You will like the perfect prepared pie crust, that requires the addition of cold water only, for making tarts.

PEAR CHOW-CHOW (An excellent relish)

6 large onions
4 large sweet red peppers
12 pounds ripe pears
2 cups or 1 pound sugar
5 cups vinegar
4 teaspoons salt
1 tablespoon mixed whole spice
Peel onions; remove seeds from peppers; grind using coarse blade. Mix sugar, vinegar, salt and spice in large preserving kettle; heat to boiling point; add other ingredients; and boil 30 minutes, stirring occasionally. Pour into hot, sterilized fruit jars; seal immediately. Makes about 12 pints.

RAISIN PICKLES (You'll repeat this one)

8 to 10 pounds or 1 gallon small, firm, fresh cucumbers
1 gallon water
1 cup salt
1 pound seedless raisins
3 pints vinegar
2½ cups or 1½ pounds sugar
Wash cucumbers thoroughly; place in crock. Bring water to boil, add salt, pour over cucumbers and let stand overnight. Drain, heat same water and repeat process for 3 days. On third morning, pack cucumbers in sterilized quart fruit jars with a layer of raisins in top of each jar. Mix vinegar and sugar; heat to boiling point, pour over pickles and seal immediately. Makes 4 quarts. seal immediately with paraffin.

NILES VISITOR PREFERS SOUTHERN COOKING

Mrs. Albert Furtado of Oakland who is in Niles with her husband this week visiting her mother-in-law, Mrs. Marianna Furtado, was a visitor at the Register office and came to the rescue of this department by offering two of her favorite recipes. Mrs. Furtado is from Virginia and believes that her Southern way of preparing pork chops, although she calls it Swiss, is just a little different from the ordinary. Simple to prepare.

SWISS PORK CHOPS

Roll the chops in flour, then brown in butter—both sides. With the remaining butter in the pan (skillet is best) make a gravy by adding a little flour and just enough water to thicken as desired. Then drop in the chops and place in oven for an hour.

Following is a baked apple recipe, a delicious counterpart to the meat course above.

BAKED APPLE

Prepare six large apples, cut in halves and clean out core. Place in baking dish. Make a syrup with one cup of sugar, one teaspoon flour and just enough water to dissolve. Pour this over the apples. Sprinkle with cinnamon and dot with butter.

Since apples help keep the doctor away we are cooperating with our readers in keeping good health and submit the following apple recipes which are as appetizing as they are healthful:

APPLE DUMPLINGS

6 medium-sized baking apples
¾ cup cinnamon
1½ cup granulated sugar
4 tbs. melted butter or margarine
1 cup canned grapefruit juice
Plain pastry
Pare and core apples; place 2 inches apart in a greased baking pan. Mix cinnamon and ½ c. of the sugar; place some in each center; add 1 tbs. butter to each. Make pastry, using 2 c. flour as basis. Roll into 6 inch circles 1/8 inch thick. Fit a pastry circle over the surface of each apple, tucking it under the apple. Prick Bake in a hot oven of 450 deg. F. 25 min. Meanwhile boil the grapefruit juice, c. sugar, and 2 tbs. butter 5 min.; pour over dumplings; reduce heat to 250 deg. F. (moderate oven) and bake 15 min. or until tender.

BAKED APPLE TAPIOCA

3 c. boiling water
1 c. brown sugar
1 tsp. salt
½ to ¾ c. quick-cooking tapioca
¼ tsp. nutmeg or cinnamon
3 tbs. butter or margarine
3 c. thinly sliced pared cooking apples
Cream
Place water in top of double boiler over direct heat. Mix sugar, salt, and tapioca; add to the water gradually. Bring to a boil, stirring constantly; place over boiling water; cook 5 min. Add nutmeg, butter and apples; turn into a greased 1½ quart casserole. Cover; bake 1 hr. in moderate oven of 350 deg. F. Cool; serve with cream. Serves 6. Half recipe serves 2 or 3.

RUN THE BUMS OUT

Niles business men point out that bums are becoming more and more numerous on the streets of Niles. They flock into town in the mornings, enter business houses, stop at kitchen doors and waylay citizens along the street with their constant whine of "cuppa coffee".

Some of them just want a nickel to buy a piece of meat to go with their loaf of bread. Some want a nickel to buy a little bread to go with their meat.

When they get what they're after, they buy cheap wine with it and lay around drunk for two or three hours in the afternoon, generally where the town's women folk have to step around them on the way to market.

If the townspeople would refuse to give money to these men, they would cease to be a menace. They have their own peculiar way of spreading information and they infest only those towns which have the reputation as easy marks.

Next time you are moved to give a bum money remember he is not going to spend it for food. He is going to pool it with other nickels and dimes and get drunk.

When he wants food he is going to St. Mary's of the Palms where the sisters will attend to his needs. The money he gets from you will go for a good time.

If you must give money to bums, give it to St. Mary's or some other recognized agency.

"IF HE'S LUCKY, A MILLION MEN WLL DIE!"

The above is the caption beneath a picture in an advertisement appearing in recent magazines.

The picture it illustrates is that of a chemist at work in a laboratory.

The advertisement goes on to state: "He was top man in his class when he graduated from college. It was predicted he would have an exceptionally brilliant career. And here he is, on the way to fulfilling those predictions. Do you know how? By working on the development of a more deadly and inhuman poison gas!"

"He might have been the scientist destined to find the cure for cancer. He might have held the key to the discovery of a preventative for infantile paralysis. He might have saved millions from agony, and heartbreak, and twisted limbs.

"But the world couldn't spare him for that. He's needed to make poison gas . . . ."

There's considerably more to the advertisement—all in the same vein. It was paid for by World Peaceways. It is a good advertisement. In an era when much advertising is specious and tawdry. It is a comfort to run across something like World Peaceways.

DECORATE A TREE

The Outdoor Christmas Tree Association of California has again entered wholeheartedly to interest all tree and garden lovers in their campaign to decorate and illuminate 100,000 living Christmas trees.

Mrs. A. B. Spreckles well known for her civic pride is president of the association and this fact assures the success of the movement. It has long been the custom for public spirited citizens to take part in decoration and illumination of living trees and in the past years the residents of Niles and Washington Township have vied good naturedly with their neighbors as to who could effect the most beautiful decorated tree.

In order to stimulate greater interest it seems proper at this time to call upon D. E. C. Grau, President of the Niles Chamber of Commerce to issue a proclamation calling upon all good and true citizens to begin and plan to decorate a living tree of which there are many beautiful specimens in the Township.

It is quite possible to adopt a system of entrance and make of the occasion a most interesting one. Due and proper notice can be given of the participants so that all may enjoy a view of the beautiful outdoor Christmas trees.

—D. R. REES.

football season is over and the standard football fiction story no longer appears in every issue of all the slick paper publications. You know the tale: Biff Beezer, poor but honest grid hero, goes to Bazooka U. on a scholarship because he can not be beat in carrying the ball on a broken field. Biff's coach decides he's a lemon and keeps him on the bench for three years while less deserving players forge ahead. Bill's girl in the Gamma U house, however, proves to the coach that he is mistaken and Biff makes the winning touchdown in the last game of his senior year and gets a job selling securities on a rising market after graduation.

When Lucian Cary writes the yarn for Colliers or Red Book, it generally is complicated by attempts of a villainous Chicago betting pool to get Bill drunk on Big Game day. When home of the other hicks write it, there are apt to be angles involving ill feeling between the bona fide players and their semi-professional teammates or a rivalry between co-eds for the same quarterback. But regardless of thrills, the story is always the same in its main outlines and it always winds up with a play-by-play account of the big game and clinch with the lady.

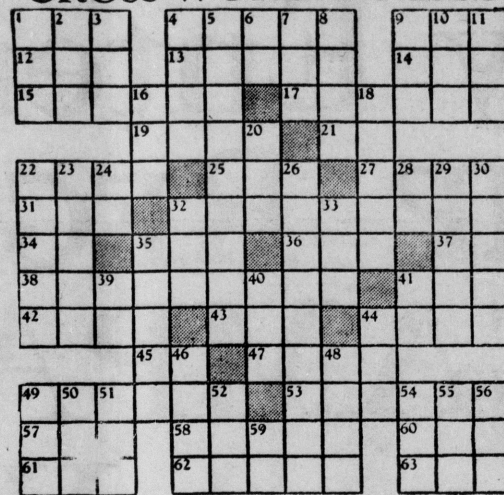

Investigation into the Berkeley liquor situation reveals that many of the students find themselves unable to afford more than 50-cent-a-gallon claret which they buy from a string of liquor shops around the edge of the mile limit.

One lay last week we went to the Grand Lake Theatre in Oakland to attend the Hollywood preview of "The Good Earth", a screen adaptation of the Pearl S. Buck story of the same name. The theatre was crowded and we had to stand the entire length of the picture—two and a half hours. We know that the picture is a bit lengthy and that it will be returned to Hollywood for doctoring up, recutting, etc.—but we have failed to see just where the producers are going to sever the film. It is all so closely woven that the cutting job is going to be a difficult and delicate, albeit, necessary operation.

The principals Wang Lung and O-Lan, about whom the story is centered, are given vital and real character by Paul Muni and Luise Rainer, respectively. The story, written by a woman who knows her China depicts the life of the Chinese peasant—poor but honest. On the screen, the characteristic of the Chinese which seems to us Americans to be an ordinary variety of humility is stressed and brought out in plain view as only a part of the great and beautiful code and philosophy which guides the lives of these orientals, a truly great race. On the screen it is given a new beauty and meaning and dignity which is not entirely recognizable or apparent in the book. This is probably due to the sincere portrayals of the two stars who did such superb work with their parts and due also to the many and great technical possibilities of modern cinema. The principals, Wang Lung and O-Lan in their plan living, with their earthy instincts and humble surroundings never for one moment forget their spiritual or philosophical nature. The roles of Paul Muni and Luise Rainer envelope the individual personalities of these two stars and only once in each case did we think of the character on the screen before us as the star instead of the Chinese. Once, in the final scene, O-Lan's death scene, we thought we saw Luise Rainer coming out from behind the Chinese mask, but this can perhaps be attributed to faulty make-up and is not necessarily a reflection on the acting ability of the star. The make-up of the artists was otherwise splendid throughout, the parts necessitating changes in make-up to cover the entire span of a lifetime, from youth to old age.

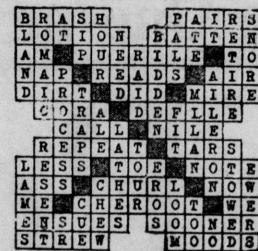

After Connolly did a beautiful prayer his minor but important pretensions that he was overacting. Science was an excusable fault. Health was exhibited by Connolly as a definite and likeable

Brickbats And Roses

Do Your Kicking Here--You'll Feel Better

Brickbats and Roses,
Township Register,
Niles, California.
Gentlemen:—

May I be allowed to add a word to the bridge controversy? The ideal that is America calls for fair play. Fair play includes freedom of speech; of press; of religion, etc. Freedom is only abused when fair play is not used.

What Mrs. Myers has said about Mr. Hoover does not matter so far as Mr. Hoover is concerned. History has already recorded his part in building of the great bridge. That this part was not a small one is of record because while many dreamed, he did the practical things which made the dream possible. Most important of all were just two things; overcoming the opposition of the navy and providing the means for financing the project.

What does matter is that Mrs. Myers has spoiled an otherwise fine poem by failing to recognize the spirit of fair play which is so truly

America in its highest form.

We would extend our congratulations to Mrs. Williamson for her fine poem "Song of the Bridge" with the subtitle of "A Chant of Universal Brotherhood." It seems to us that she has caught the true tone of the great bridge which rears its mighty piers only because of the co-operation of the many.

Yours sincerely,
ELIZABETH H. SLOAN
Irvington, Calif.

Alvarado:

To the Editor:

I think you should carry a program of coming events in your newspaper. With all these Whist parties and dances and other events coming so fast this time of year, it would be of considerable assistance to your readers to have them listed each week. It would also help local organizations which are planning such events in picking suitable, unfilled dates.

Very truly yours,
Mrs. G. Hammilbach

Mending New Baby

In the course of her duties the nurse was washing baby, and little Jackie, aged three, was a silent, but interested onlooker. He watched her pinning on baby's clothes, and at last his anxiety got the better of him.

"Nurse, are you sure this is a new baby?" he asked.

"Why, yes, dear," she replied.

"Well, nurse, if he's a new baby what are you mending him for?" was the surprising inquiry.

Safety First

Little Hinks presented himself at the office with a noticeable gap in his upper dentures.

"Hullo!" was the cry. "Had an accident?"

"No," he replied. "Only a row with the wife."

"What! You surely didn't come to blows?"

"Oh, no," said Hinks. "But next time I gnash my teeth I'll remember to take my pipe out of my mouth." —London Tit-Bits Magazine.

Uncle Phil Says:

That Is Perfection

Perfection does not consist in doing singular things; but it does consist in doing common things singularly well.

A man who knows that his hardships made the best part of his character may not want his son to have hardships.

Always be sure your friends can grant the favor before you ask it; then there won't be the pain and embarrassment of refusal.

Admitting our faults is half way to correcting them; but the laziest half.

Those That Tried

Failures are facts that prove a man has at least actually tried to be successful.

If you want to make your friend happy instead of seeking to have him make you happy, that's the true gold.

The sophisticated person finds little to enjoy. Everything is old to him.

We always feel great admiration for those clever people who can mend something when we break it.

Everyone remembers what a great man says. So much the worse for his reputation for consistency.

In Our Township Garden

By PAUL DOUGHERTY
(Agriculture Department Washington Union High School, Vice President, Washington-Eden Farm Center)

WANTED—A TOMATO MOSES
Right now we feel the Tomato growers of our Township have great need of a Moses who will arise and lead the united band of producers into the promised land of $15 roadside tomatoes. It is an odd situation and as we shall point out, this Moses must be a grower who is not now a member of the local Canning Vegetable Growers Association.

State Wide Organization Planned
In the entire State at the present time, the leaders in the tomato growing business are attempting organization and as a first step are asking growers to sign a pledge not to contract their 37 crop for less than $15. Their demand for $15 does not seem to us unreasonable, especially in view of the fact that a fraction of a cent per can would give the increase required, and the present price, $12.50 per ton, is certainly no get rich quick proposition for the grower. The canning industry requiring an investment of roughly $4 in the finished product for every dollar expended for farmer grown produce, is naturally well financed and are joined in the powerful Cannery League. The state wide move for growers organization, which is under the auspices of the State Farm Bureau Federation, counts on the support and active organization of the Township Growers at this time.

Local Success Points The Way
The local growers last winter were the chief movers in a state wide movement of similar nature. This movement then crystallized down to a determined group of $1 local growers with 1200 acres of tomatoes. Comparing this group with the entire number as reported by the U. S. 1935 Census, we find that about one third of the producers in the Township are now organized in a definite cooperative corporation which is the Alameda County Canning Vegetable Growers Association.

This group appears to have more than reached every price goal they set out to attain, and has made definite arrangements on similar lines for the future. Having set their marketing house in order, and put an economic roof over their heads, they wish well to all others, but must tell them that there is neither room under their roof for all "outsiders" nor have they time and energy to go out in the storm and build another roof for the rest of the world. Being sponsored by the Farm Bureau originally, most of the Farm Bureau group of growers are also the members of the Canning Vegetable Growers Association.

Unorganized Growers Will Build Their Own Future

Now to come back to our Moses. His job is to secure for the State-wide movement, the united support of the two thirds of our tomato growers not now organized.

We know that there are many cooperative minded men in this unorganized group and that both the prospects for success and the need for action are greater than they were at this time last year. If the movement fails for lack of leadership, we believe many growers will find themselves in a bad spot. Every economic straw in the wind points to higher prices and higher wages. A vast industry like steel, voluntarily grants 10 per cent pay increases, bringing the average wage of all employees to 73.9 cents per hour. General Motors, besides pay increases of 5 cents an hour, gives its employees a Christmas bonus of $10,000,000 and pays its stockholders bigger dividends than in the boom year of 1929. It looks like higher costs for the tomato grower. We believe the prospect for higher returns lies in organized effort.

Government Notices

SAN FRANCISCO—Information is being compiled to ascertain the possibilities of group medical care for low income rural families, it was announced today by the Re- settlement Administration at regional headquarters, San Francisco.

The rehabilitation of numerous loan clients is threatened, it was declared, by lack of money to pay for medical and hospital services. State and county medical associations are being requested to co-operate in the survey, and to suggest plans for group medical care.

The tentative plan of the Re- settlement Administration, officials said, is to cooperate with ethical medical societies and hospitals for group medical care in localities where the need is greatest. A loan would be made to a group on a basis of a stipulated amount for each member client. The money would be paid to the group center by the client, who would add the sum to his rehabilitation loan.

COWS PAY CALL ON NILES FOLK

NILES—Niles had a touch of the old west on Wednesday morning when 200 head of Carl Zwissig's cows went on a tear in the middle of town.

Zwissig's men were herding the bossies toward the Zwissig ranch near Decoto and had them well in hand until the band reached Mar- ble's service station. Then the animals started to wander.

Some of them took a notion to the geranium vines in front of the Township Register office, others apparently had their eyes on a permanent wave by Marjorie Moore.

Zwissig's boys managed to get them through the street with a minimum of hard feelings, however.

OFFICIAL VISITS

N.D.G.W. GROUP

NILES—The Laura Loma Parlor of the N. D. G. W. received the official visit of their Grand President, Florence Boyle, on Tuesday night. There were many grand officers present who accompanied the president on her visit and large delegations of members of neighboring parlors. Among the grand officers who visited Niles was Sally Thayer, Grand Secretary. A great number of visitors came from Hayward, Oakland, San Francisco and the Betsy Ross Parlor. After the meeting refreshments were served and all enjoyed a musical program.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Furtado of Oakland are visiting with his mother, Mrs. Marianna Furtado of Niles this week.
